General Information

The Atlantic Provinces Special Education Authority Resource Centre for the Hearing Impaired is located in the town of Amherst, Nova Scotia, close to the New Brunswick/Nova Scotia border. The Centre has been established in its present location since 1961. The Amherst campus, the central feature of the organization providing educational service to deaf and other hearing impaired students from the Atlantic Provinces, has roots going back to 1856. Over the school's 135 year history it has been known as the School for the Deaf, Halifax; the Interprovincial School for the Deaf, (ISD); The Atlantic Provinces Resource Centre for the Hearing Handicapped (APRCHH); and since 1989, as the Atlantic Provinces Special Education Authority Resource Centre for the Hearing Impaired (APSEA-RCHI).

The Resource Centre provides educational programs for children and young adults between the ages of 0-21, who have been diagnosed as having a hearing loss. These services are provided on campus in Amherst and off campus through the preschool program, dayclasses or in the public school setting to residents of the provinces of New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

The 1990-91 school year began with a major reorganization of the administrative structure of the APSEA Resource Centre for the Hearing Impaired. Prior to this year the Director was the immediate supervisor of twenty-two department heads, supervisors or individuals. With reorganization this number was reduced to seven administrators, who with the administrative secretary, would makeup membership of the Administrative Advisory Committee. These four program supervisors and three coordinators are Raymond LeBlanc, Supervisor On-campus Programs; Joyce Gillis, Supervisor Vocational Programs; David Tingley, Supervisor Off-campus Programs, Nova Scotia; Myrna Matheson, Supervisor Off-campus Programs, New Brunswick; Joan Beswick, Coordinator Assessment Centre; Doug Page, Coordinator Student and Residential Services; and Linda MacDonald, Acting Coordinator Teacher Education Department.

On-Campus Programs

Raymond LeBlanc was appointed to the position of Supervisor On-Campus Programs after holding th position of Acting Academic Supervisor for two years. Effective August 1, 1990, and as a result of the administrative reorganization, his position holds the responsibility for both educational and residential programs for all students enrolled in elementary and high school on-campus programs.

Academic programs were provided to seventy students between the ages of 5 to 19 years. The department also offers a vocational/academic program with students receiving some of the necessary high school credits from the Atlantic Technological Vocational Centre. The department also offers programs that are focused on the development of life skills. These programs provide students with a variety of experiences and opportunities which will enable them to live independently. In cooperation with the Amherst Regional High School, the Resource Centre continues to maintain an intergrated class of students. This support service, provided since 1981, enables students to enroll in classes at the Amherst Regional High School and receive the support of Jack Boyd, teacher. During the 1990-91 school year six students attended classes at ARHS.

Viola Sangster was appointed to the position of Assistant On-Campus Supervisor with the responsibility for the programs provided to thirteen multihandicapped students including the deaf-blind students in the Fearon Unit.

Five dormitory areas are located throughout the school. The Fearon Dorm under the supervisor of Elaine Ward, Head Residence Counsellor, provided care to eleven deaf-blind or multihandicapped students between the ages of 15 to 19 years. There were six full-time and five part-time residence counsellors assigned to the Fearon Unit.

The Bee Gee Dorm housed eight students whose ages range from 5 to 10 years. Dale Davis was the head residence counsellor for the Bee Gee Dorm. There were four full-time and two part-time residence counsellors assigned to this dorm.

The Burris Dorm which housed the senior girls had seventeen students between the ages of 13 to 17 years. The head residence counsellor, Beth McKenzie, with five full-time and one part-time residence counsellors provided care and supervision to these students.

Donald McKay was head counsellor for both the Van Allen I and Van Allen II dorms. With the assistance of eight full-time and one part-time residence counsellors supervision and care were provided to 26 boys. Some students have been provided the opportunity to live in a boarding area within the school. There were nine students housed in those areas.

Vocational Programs

In September, 1990, Joyce Gillis was appointed to the position of Supervisor Vocational Programs. She brings many years of teaching experience to this position. During the 1990 school term, vocational programming was provided for 26 students and 20 pre-vocational students in eight shop areas. Two on-campus students received individual programs in maintenance and personal care and nine students who enrolled in provincial community colleges received support services. Four, second year Nova Scotia students, were granted an additional four month training allowance by the Vocational Rehabilitation of Disabled Persons. One second year New Brunswick student, was allowed an additional year.

Students on campus participated in a number of workshops including: hearing and hearing aids, technical aides, abuse and relationships as well as an evening session of the parent workshop. Throughout the year, several students received psychological counselling in an attempt to enable them to appropriately deal with anger and other destructive behaviour. Staff and students in the printing, autobody, and carpentry programs were able to attend trade shows in their specific fields.

ATVC students participated in the regular recreational program coordinated by Mary Hamilton, who fills the position of recreation programmer at ATVC. Fund raising activities were held to support the student council programs and various activities were conducted throughout the year including: bowling league, swimming, dart league, skiing, trips, hockey games, winter carnival, bottle drives, and numerous other activities.

An extensive Co-operative Education Program was offered to on-campus academic students, selected vocational students, and one class of off-campus high school students. Fifty-seven employers participated in work placements. The Co-Op Education Program became incorporated into the courses available to students and is now a credit course.

From January to March, 1991, the Nova Scotia Department of Labour conducted a carpentry apprenticeship program at ATVC under the direction of Eric Estabrooks.

Throughout the year the following workshops were held at ATVC for staff: Audiology, presented by Reg Dunphy; Career Education, Bob Gerard; Nova Scotia Community College, Pictou Vocational Education, John Keating; and Red River Community College, Vocational Education, Terry Leslie.

In cooperation with ATVC and ACEHI, seven students were able to experience summer work placements through the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission-Summer Employment Experience Development Program. The feedback from employers on student job skills was very positive. Difficulties which arose were in the area of interpersonal relationships, appropriate social behaviour and absenteeism.

Assessment Centre

The Administrative reorganization which became effective at the beginning of this school year resulted in an expansion of the job responsibilities for Joan Beswick, Assessment Centre Coordinator. The relocation to C-Wing of the APSEA-RCHI Assessment team members, support personnel and consultants also took place.

In addition to the support services provided by the school counsellor, psychologist, audiologist, and speech teacher, a primary role of the Assessment Centre is the evaluation of pupil learning. Comprehensive individual evaluations were conducted throughout the school year. During the 1990-91 school year approximately 100 evaluations were conducted at the Assessment Centre. Evaluations were conducted in English and/or French, orally and/or manually. Multihandicapped students were evaluated either at the Assessment Centre or by a visit of the APSEA-RCHI consultant for multihandicapped to their homes or schools.

New services offered from the Assessment Centre during the 1990-91 school year were: the Parent Education Centre, Vocational Assessment, Francophone Assessment, and Consultation on Educational Assistant/Interpreter Service.

The Parent Education Centre located in the former Director's house, is staffed on a part-time basis by Carol Oram, Parent Educator/Consultant. It offers accommodations for visiting parents, workshops for parents, post-diagnostic assessments of pre-schoolers and consultation for parents and APSEA-RCHI parent educators.

Vocational assessment is an out-growth of a federally funded project awarded to the Atlantic Technological Vocational Centre in 1989 through the work of Joyce Gillis. The equipment for this project and the vocational evaluator, John LeBlanc, moved to the Assessment Centre in September, 1990. Thirty-four vocational evaluations of hearing-impaired youth were conducted beginning in October, 1990. These evaluations involved one week of testing and observation of preformance on a variety of work samples and hands-on tasks. They yielded information on student's interests, aptitudes, and temperments which was used to guide career planning, selection of secondary and post-secondary courses, and placement in appropriate work study experiences.

To provide consultation on Francophone assessment and the educational assistant/interpreter service, two teachers from the Academic Department were assigned on a part-time basis to the Assessment Centre. Training and learning opportunities were provided to both staff members in order to develop new specialists skills and enhance existing skills.

The APSEA-RCHI Audiology Department increased it's ability to repair behind-the-ear and in-the-ear hearing aids, through the assistance of the second hearing aid technician, Wayne Dorey. During the school year, 460 hearing aids were processed for repair, with 404 of these aids being repaired on campus. This significantly reduces the down-time when a hearing aid is broken. The turn-around-time on a broken hearing aid is approximately two days reducing the amount of time that the child is not able to wear a personal hearing aid. The Audiology Department also does routine repairs and checks on Phonic FM Classroom amplification equipment. The two technicians, Rod Cameron and Wayne Dorey, repaired and checked 400 FM Units in addition to the routine checking of FM units by Dr. David Lyon for children in off-campus programs.

The technicians in the Audiology Department also assisted in repair of audio visual equipment and televisions. The technicians assist in equipment set-ups for on-campus workshops. The Audiology Department has taken an active role in setting up the assistive listening devices at the Parent Education Centre. Through the Audiology Department, assistive devices can be ordered and information provided to students and parents on the correct use of such devices.

The Audiology Department ordered 300 new hearing aids from September, 1990, to June, 1991. These hearing aids were ordered for children in on-campus programs, as well as, children in off-campus programs in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The Audiology Department was also responsible for ordering 901 ear molds during that same time period. The majority of these ear mold impressions were taken by APSEA-RCHI staff members, who are certified by the Audiology Department, to undertake this task.

Teacher Education

At the end of the 1990 school term Dr. Dodie French left the position of Coordinator of Teacher Education to take a position in the Eastern Michigan University teacher education department. Following extensive advertising of the position it was decided that the department would operate for the year with one staff member carrying the major responsibility for courses as well as the administrative responsibilities. Linda MacDonald filled the position as acting coordinator during the 1990-91 school term.

Eleven full-time students were enrolled in the teacher education program when classes began in September. Within a short time two students dropped out of the program. Part-time lecturers were obtained to provide the courses not given by Linda MacDonald.

Under the direction of Linda MacDonald and in cooperation with the Assessment Centre speech consultant a speech lab was established. During the week of April 8-12 teacher education students participated in a week long speech and language workshop given by Marjorie Magner a former teacher and administrator of the Clarke School for the Deaf, Northampton, Massachusetts. This workshop proved to be a very positive experience not only for the teachers in training, but for other teaching staff and students as well. Miss Magner travelled to Halifax to visit with teachers from the dayclasses and to provide consultation in the area of speech teaching.

Student and Residential Services

As of August 1, 1990, Doug Page, former principal of ATVC, assumed the position of Coordinator of Student and Residential Services. This position, which formerly held responsibility for dormitory programs and supervision of residence counsellors, was changed as a result of the administrative restructuring. The position became responsible for off-campus living arrangements for vocational students, residential student travel, and the general supervision of the maintenance, housekeeping, food services and student services departments. Doug Page also became responsible for the provision of tours and/or accommodations for all visitors to the Centre.

A contract was awarded to Nichols Transportation limited to provide the weekend transportation for the Resource Centre students travelling to their homes throughout the provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Preschool/Parent Education

Preschool parent education was provided to 42 families in the Province of Nova Scotia and to 33 families in New Brunswick. With the appointment of a preschool parent consultant, working out of the Parent Education Centre in Amherst, support was provided for the teachers offering the parent education program and for the organization of the parent workshop offered in April. During the year, the Ski-Hi Home Visit Curriculum was adopted for use in the parent education program, with materials selected from other curriculums.

Off-Campus Programs Nova Scotia

In Nova Scotia a dayclass was maintained in Arcadia, Cambridge, Havre Boucher, Heatherton, Hubley-Halifax County, and Lunenburg; four dayclasses were located in Dartmouth; three classes located in Sydney; and two classes in Wolfville. May 31, 1991, statistics showed 64 students in dayclass programs.

A variety of services were provided to students integrated into public schools. These services ranged from direct support each week to consultation services to public school personnel working with integrated students who have a hearing loss. Seventy-eight students received direct services from an itinerant teacher on a weekly basis; thirty-four students received a visit from an itinerant teacher on a monthly basis; and tutors supported by an itinerant teacher, provided direct service on a weekly basis to forty-seven integrated students.

A major thrust of the consultation service this year was the provision of inservice education on the topic of hearing impairment to public school personnel. These inservices ranged from day long sessions to one or two hour sessions. The objective was to meet with all staff involved with hearing-impaired students served by the Resource Centre.

During the 1991 school year, individual education plans (IEP's), and annual placement reviews took place. IEP's were written for all students in parent education, and dayclass programs, and appropriate components of integrated student programs. Placement reviews for students in APSEA-RCHI residential programs took place at the same time as those for off-campus students.

The Nova Scotia Off-Campus Programs received a number of donations to assist in the purchasing of equipment for dayclasses. The Halifax Protestants' Infants Foundation donated $1,800 for the purchase of assistive devices to be used as a demonstration lab for parents. Such items were closed captioned decoders, TDD's, door bell signalers and alarm clocks for hearing impaired. Donations were received from the Valley Parents' Association and the Dukes of Kent Valley Chapter for the purchase of a printer for a classroom computer.

Off-Campus Programs New Brunswick

At the beginning of the school term a fourth parent education position was established to meet an increased enrolment of preschool age children. Parent educators were involved in discussions with the New Brunswick Department of Education concerning the implementation of the play based public kindergarten program for the 1991-92 school year. During the 1990-91 school term two dayclasses were maintained in Saint John, one dayclass in Moncton, and one dayclass in Fredericton. One dayclass in Saint John was closed with the responsibilities of the teaching position changed to the provision of support for students integrated into the public school. This change was caused by the increasing number of hearing-impaired students in integrated settings.

June, 1990, statistics showed that 26 integrated hearing-impaired students were receiving support from itinerant teachers; an additional thirty-three students received tutorial support. These tutors were working under the direction of an itinerant teacher. In addition, 117 hearing-impaired students were receiving visits from itinerant teachers on a monthly basis. Itinerant teachers also provided consultation to public school personnel who were working with hearing-impaired students.

Four, day long, regional workshops entitled, "Teaching the Hearing-Impaired Child" were held at hospitals in Saint John, Fredericton, Moncton and Bathurst. Approximately 130 public school teachers attended these workshops.

During this school term, APSEA and the New Brunswick Department of Education, approved the hiring of three educational assistants/interpreters to serve two junior high students; one in Hartland, one in Jacquet River, and one high school student in Quispamsis. A job interview process was developed which included the assessment of interpreting skills. One of the difficulties encountered in trying to provide this service is the unavailability of well trained qualified interpreters. There are many issues that still need to be addressed concerning the qualifications of the students who receive this service as well as the type of service which is necessary in the educational environment.

Annual Medical Report for 1990-1991

There were no major medical problems during the 1990-1991 school year.

The Infirmary was staffed as in previous years by Mrs. Vera Piercy, RN and Mrs. June Holloway, RN with relief by CNA assistants when necessary.

Dr. Frank Bravo, ENT Specialist, held weekly ENT clinics at the Infirmary and was available for ENT and head and neck surgery at the Highland View Regional Hospital.

Dr. Bill Gill was available for conferences on any students requiring psychiatric advice or psychotropic medications. During this year 4 conferences were held.

Dr. Sylvia Keet attended the school on April, 26 and reviewed congenital rubella syndrome students who had been followed from infancy at the IWK Developmental Clinic. All rubella syndrome children were routinely checked for diabetes and hypothyroidism.

All students on regular medications received routine bloodwork at the start and end of each academic year.

A dental hygienist held clinics from January 17 to February 6 for all students in the school and all had prophylactic fluoride treatments.

There was one 2-day hospital admission and no fractures or significant injuries.

During the year there were a total of 205 medical appointments at the Infirmary and at my office 19. In my absence patients were seen by the doctor on call for the Hospital Out Patient Department.

Regular height and weight checks are kept on all students and the dietitian is consulted where necessary.

I would like to thank the nursing staff for their assistance to me and for the efficient care given to the children in their charge.

Gillian Lawrence, M.B., B.S., L.M.S.S.A.
School Physician
